

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH VIRGINIA

She's Alright—State Wide Advocates Sweep State By Majority of 20,000.

RICHMOND WET BY 1729.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 22.—Returns tonight from Virginia's State-wide prohibition election today indicate that the prohibitionists have carried the state by a majority of more than twenty thousand. Richmond gave four thousand two hundred and eighty-two for prohibition; six thousand and eleven against. Scattering returns from all counties show heavy dry majorities.

Virginia's voters were called upon today to decide whether a state-wide law prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors or its policy of local option be retained. The question of a state-wide law has been agitated for several years, and today it was the subject of a popular referendum.

Under an act of the last legislature the governor was directed to call today's special election upon petition from one-fourth of the persons voting at the preceding November election. Approximately 70,000 persons signed the petitions.

Ninety of the 109 Virginia counties voted dry in previous local option contests. In the event therefore, the state-wide prohibition has been voted down the local option laws now in effect in nine-tenths of the state would still continue in force. As prohibition won the governor, under the terms of the legislative referendum will issue a proclamation declaring the state dry on and after Nov. 1, 1916.

BURGLAR'S ENTER SEVERAL HOUSES

Burglars entered the residences of W. W. Wright, F. P. Giannini, A. G. Spillman and A. H. Moorehead last night. They relieved Mr. Spillman of $10.70 and escaped without awakening any of the household. Frank Giannini, Jr., heard some prowling around below stairs and went out to investigate. The burglars were in the dining room and evidently heard him leave his room as they made a break for the front door and escaped. Frank Giannini shot at them as they were leaving the house and as they passed under the light in front of the Christian Church. One of the men wore a stiff hat and dark coat. Presumably the same men entered the residence of W. W. Wright, ate everything in sight and left five empty pocket books scattered on the floor down stairs. Mrs. Wright was awakened and heard some one in her room and thinking it was Florio, called to her; the men left and went out the back way and then entered the home of A. H. Moorehead, nothing was missed from this place but all the doors were left propped open. One of the men was seized with an uncontrollable desire to change his shirt and left the old one in Mr. Moorehead's garden on the pumpkin vines. There is no clue to the identity of the daring and enterprising burglars, so far.

HEALTH AND HAPPINESS

Here is a standpoint that Collier's takes regarding the great war:

"It is a cheerful item that the war may deprive the United States of many foreign drugs. Our people take too much dope anyhow. What we need is saner eating and exercise and less medicine. The war may be for many of us a valuable compulsory discipline in personal hygiene, a start toward better living.

"That's right," comments the Ohio State Journal. "Civilization, religion, health, education, happiness, economy, are all a matter of hygiene, which teaches us how to live. Morality is largely concerned with simple living, pure air and water, sunshine and out on a lark with nature. Health, religion and morality are simply the harmony that one holds with the pure and beautiful things of the world. It belongs to the sunshine, the woods and the bank of the creek. These are the things that will have to take the place of foreign drugs, if we are to be well and happy. How tender and loving the change."

Tom Logan Appointed Chairman

Hopkins County's popular sheriff Tom Logan has been appointed Chairman of the Campaign Committee, for the coming November election. His first duty will be to appoint three men from each precinct as committeemen.

WHAT TOMMY ATKINS EATS

Publication of British Soldier's Menu Follows General French's Praise of the Commissary

London, Sept. 24.—When Gen. French's report of the first week's fighting of the British army in France was received last week it was noted that in mentioning the various branches of the service which had contributed to the success of the movements, he laid particular stress upon the wonderful work the commissary department had done. The early movements of the army were in the form of alternate stands and retreats—a fight all day and a retreat at night. Yet the commissary was able to keep up with and serve Tommy Atkins and keep his belly full. And Tommy fought like a lion although he did not relish the continuous retrograde. Thus Lord Kitchener's promise at the beginning of hostilities has been carried out.

"Every man on the battle line will fight on a full stomach," he said and the publication of Tommy's menu shows plainly that England's war minister has made good his word. Every soldier is allowed a pound and a half of bacon and beef per day; a pound and a half of bread with cheese or jam; two ounces of tobacco, and much to the surprise of the more radical section of the people, a generous allowance of rum. Lord Kitchener, when commanding operations in South Africa learned that when hard fighting or marches have to be undertaken, or when troops have to remain for long hours without protection in wet weather, the rum stimulates the soldier, to his best effort and minimizes the risk of chill.

WON'T AGREE TO TRUCE

Colorado Coal Company is Not Willing to Enter Into Contract With Miners

CANNOT RELY ON GOOD FAITH

Denver Col., Sept. 23.—Operators claiming to produce seventy per cent of the coal mined in Colorado today sent a letter to President Wilson on the strike situation.

They expressed willingness to obey the mining statutes of Colorado and to re-employ such striking coal miners as they think desirable and for whom there is work at the mines, but they refused to enter into the three-year truce with the United Mine Workers of America or to re-employ all strikers not convicted of crime or to submit to a final arbitration of all grievances by a Federal commission.

The letter was a reply to the communication in which the president urged the operators to adopt the plan submitted by Hywell Davis and William E. Fairley, Federal mediators, for ending the coal strike. It was signed by the Victor-American Fuel Company, the Rocky Mountain Fuel Company—two of the so-called "big three"—and by forty-one smaller concerns. The Colorado Fuel Company gave its view to the President in a separate letter made public last night.

The operators express doubt as to the impartiality of the Federal mediators.

Referring to the proposed three years trade, the operators said:

"The Governor of this State some months since entered into an agreement or truce with the leaders of this organization and, in utter disregard of their obligations, the striking miners, under the direction of these identical leaders, continued with renewed vigor to destroy our properties and kill our workmen. It would be imprudent to again place reliance upon the good faith of these men."

BACK TO THE SMOKEHOUSE

Farmers in all parts of the country are watching with interest an experiment which is being made in Brooks county, Georgia. The Georgia farmers objected to the commercial system under which they were receiving but seven and eight cents a pound for the pork which they raised, while they saw the ham and bacon of commerce retailing in their own markets at 25 cents a pound. They resolved to re-establish the ante-bellum smoke-houses on their farms and immediately carried the resolution into effect. Through co operation they have commenced marketing their products in the finished form. They find that the profits which they make from curing their own meats are relatively larger, considering the time and expense involved, than those which they were receiving from marketing hogs on the hoof. The remarkable thing about this profitable experiment is that it has not been worked out in any of the grain centers or near any of the country's great markets, but in a remote county in the extreme southern part of Georgia, in a "one-crop" section, and that crop cotton.

FISTIC CLASH--GUNPLAY PRELUDE

Madisonville Coal Operator and Owensboro Attorney Mix it up—Jno. B. Brasher Arrested

Owensboro, Ky., Sept. 24.—Quite a bit of excitement was caused this afternoon in front of the Rudd House when Lawrence P. Tanner, a well-known local attorney, and Col. Jno. B. Brasher, of Madisonville, engaged in a fistic encounter. Tanner has a number of coal miners' bills for wages in his hand for collection against the Owensboro Fuel Co., of which Brasher is president. A heated argument caused Tanner to slap Brasher, when the latter pulled his pistol.

Bystanders unarmed Brasher and he was taken into custody by a policeman. Charges of carrying a concealed weapon and breach of the peace were registered against him. He was released on bond and his trial set for October 5.

Brasher was County Clerk of Hopkins County for eight years and has been chairman and secretary of the Democratic Committee of that county. At one time he was very wealthy, being interested in many coal mines in Western Kentucky.
